

Research and Analysis
All Publications by Year
Authors by Name
By Series
Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL)
Most Popular Downloads
Coming Soon
Colloquium Briefs
Links and Resources
Regional Issues
Western Hemisphere
Europe and Russia
Middle East and North Africa
Central Asia and Caucasus
Asia Pacific
Sub-Saharan Africa
Strategic Issues
Homeland Security and Defense
Era of Persistent Conflict
Military Leadership
Military Change/Transformation
Landpower Sustainment
Strategy and Policy
Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL)

Monthly Newsletter

Your Email:

Enter email address...

Subscribe

Current Newsletter featuring Junior Leader Professional Development — Who Has the Time? by Dr. Steven Metz

Past Newsletters & Op-Eds

Manage Your Subscription

All Publications By Date

81 Publications Found in 2014

Added December 19, 2014

Type: Monograph
Regionalizing East Mediterranean Gas: Energy Security, Stability, and the U.S. Role

Authored by Dr. Mohammed El-Katiri, Ms. Laura El-Katiri.

View the Executive Summary

The tremendous economic and geostrategic significance of the East Mediterranean's newly discovered and potential future hydrocarbon resources also holds the potential for new grounds for conflict. The significance of these discoveries to the geopolitics of the East Mediterranean and Middle East Regions as well as potential U.S. strategic responses to these unfolding challenges is examined.

Added December 15, 2014

Type: Letort Papers
Operationalizing Counter Threat Finance Strategies

Authored by Dr. Shima D. Keene.

View the Executive Summary

Counter Threat Finance strategies have the potential to be a multifaceted weapon both for the purpose of gathering intelligence and for direct action. This Paper highlights ways in which Counter Threat Finance strategies can be applied not only to effectively disrupt adversary activity, but also to stabilize local economies for the purpose of capturing hearts and minds, as well as to serve in advance as indicators and warnings of impending instability.

Added December 12, 2014

Type: Student (Carlisle) Papers
Government Contracting Should be a Core Competence for U.S. Military Personnel

Authored by Professor Katherine E. White.

View the Executive Summary

The wars in Iraq and Afghanistan mark an era of unprecedented outsourcing in contingency operations—in some cases leading to significant waste, fraud, and abuse. The author addresses the steps the U.S. military should take to make government contracting a core competency for both its civilian and military personnel.

Added December 11, 2014

Type: Article
What the President's ISIL Strategy Means to the Army

Authored by Lieutenant Colonel Michael A. Adelberg.

Added December 10, 2014

Type: Article
Strategic Insights: The Landpower Robot Revolution Is Coming

Authored by Dr. Steven Metz.

Added December 08, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: The Strategic Relevance of Latin America for the United States

Authored by Dr. R. Evan Ellis.

Added December 05, 2014

Type: Book

American Grand Strategy and the Future of U.S. Landpower

Edited by Major Joseph V. Da Silva, Dr. Hugh P. Liebert, Professor Isaiah Wilson, III.

View the Executive Summary

As the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq wane, an era of budget austerity emerges and the U.S. strategic focus shifts toward the Pacific, what role should LandPower play in American grand strategy? This volume offers an authoritative set of responses to this question from leading experts in international relations and security studies.

Added November 26, 2014

Type: Monograph

Re-examining the Roles of Landpower in the 21st Century and Their Implications

Authored by Dr. William T. Johnsen.

View the Executive Summary

Despite over a decade of predominantly land warfare, American policymakers are unsure about the future relevance and utility of Landpower. An increasingly uncertain and ambiguous international security environment, combined with the complexities of modern warfare argues for greater clarification of what Landpower means in 21st century terms.

Added November 20, 2014

Type: Monograph

Central Asia's Shrinking Connectivity Gap: Implications for U.S. Strategy

Authored by Roman Muzalevsky.

View the Executive Summary

The U.S. global and regional role and capabilities will depend on how well it adjusts its grand strategy in response to current and projected trends in the era of rising powers. In this context, the rise of China, India, and the resurgence of Russia—all capable of challenging regional orders—calls for an engaged, long-term, and concerted U.S. global and regional strategy in Central Asia—the area that figures increasingly prominent in the grand strategies of the rising powers.

Added November 19, 2014

Type: Monograph

Creating an Effective Regional Alignment Strategy for the U.S. Army

Authored by Major Raven Bukowski, Major John Childress, Lieutenant Colonel (Ret) Michael J. Colarusso, Lieutenant Colonel David S. Lyle.

View the Executive Summary

Despite talk about regional alignment, the Army has taken few concrete steps to prepare for this dramatic change. While enormous in its implications, the Army's current regional alignment plan seems to be little more than directing units to "focus regionally" and aligning them with the appropriate combatant command.

Added November 18, 2014

Type: Monograph

Tribal Militias: An Effective Tool to Counter Al-Qaida and Its Affiliates?

Authored by Dr. Norman Cigar.

View the Executive Summary

Since many of the societies in which Al-Qaida, its affiliates, and offshoots operate have a significant tribal component, tribally-based militias may be a critical tool in fighting against Al-Qaida, because such militias can provide a cost-effective mechanism and serve as a force multiplier for U.S. Landpower. However, tribal militias are no panacea, but can be a two-edged sword and, like any weapon, has to be understood and wielded with caution and skill in order to avoid unintended consequences.

Added November 18, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Role of Leadership in Transitional States: The Cases of Lebanon, Israel-Palestine

Authored by Dr. Anastasia Filippidou.

View the Executive Summary

Asymmetric leadership of radical organizations: necessary for the transition to stability, but also part of the problem.

Added November 10, 2014

Type: Book

Stepping Up: Burden Sharing by NATO's Newest Members

Authored by Dr. Joel R. Hillison.

View the Executive Summary

The burden sharing behavior of new NATO members is compared to that of old NATO members. Are new NATO members burden sharing at a greater rate than older NATO members?

Added November 06, 2014

Type: Book

Nuclear Weapons Materials Gone Missing: What Does History Teach?

Edited by Mr. Henry D. Sokolski.

View the Executive Summary

Ever since President Obama spotlighted nuclear terrorism as one of the top threats to international security, guarding and disposing of nuclear weapons-useable materials have become top international priorities.

Added November 05, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Landpower Task Force: Strategic Landpower in U.S. Conduct Of Modern Warfare

Authored by Cadet Hamad Agha, Cadet Christopher Dante, Cadet Gregory Rice, Cadet Kord Roberts, Cadet Jackson Turner.

Added November 04, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: Can the EU Declare Energy Independence From Russia?

Authored by 2LT Scott Cowman.

Added October 28, 2014

Type: Monograph

Maneuvering the Islamist-Secularist Divide in the Arab World: How the United States Can Preserve its Interests and Values in an Increasingly Polarized Environment

Authored by Gregory Aftandilian.

View the Executive Summary

This monograph explores the growing Islamist-secularist divide in Arab countries, particularly in Egypt and Tunisia, which has polarized such societies and often led to zero-sum politics. It offers recommendations for U.S. policymakers to maneuver through this divide while preserving U.S. interests and values.

Added October 28, 2014

Type: Monograph

U.S. Policy and Strategy Toward Afghanistan after 2014

Authored by Dr. Larry P. Goodson, Prof. Thomas H. Johnson.

View the Executive Summary

What should the United States do about Afghanistan? After nearly 13 years and substantial U.S. national commitment, much has changed in Afghanistan, the United States, Afghanistan's region, and the globe. This monograph answers six key questions for U.S. leaders regarding preparation of policy and strategy recommendations on Afghanistan.

Added October 21, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: Should General Dempsey Resign? Army Professionals and the Moral Space for Military Dissent

Authored by Dr. Don M. Snider.

Added October 17, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: Should China Be Given the Benefit of the Doubt?

Authored by Dr. David Lai.

Added October 16, 2014

Type: Monograph

Distinguishing Acts of War in Cyberspace: Assessment Criteria, Policy Considerations, and Response Implications

Authored by Jeffery L. Caton.

View the Executive Summary

Currently, there is no internationally accepted definition of when hostile actions in cyberspace are recognized as attacks, let alone acts of war. Although many of the challenges associated with this conundrum are common with those of the traditional domains (land, sea, and air), how should senior policymakers and decisionmakers address the unique vexations related to the complex and dynamic character of conflict in the cyberspace domain?

Added October 15, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: The U.S. Foray Into The Levant

Authored by Dr. Sami G. Hajjar.

Added October 01, 2014

Type: Monograph

United States-Gulf Cooperation Council Security Cooperation in a Multipolar World

Authored by Dr. Mohammed El-Katiri.

View the Executive Summary

Military and security cooperation with Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) states is of continuing importance for the United States given the region's pivotal location in the Middle East and proximity to Iran. This monograph examines recent developments in the political and economic dynamics in GCC countries and their neighbors, and the potential implications for this cooperation.

Added September 30, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: The Dragon in the Tropics: China's Military Expansion into the Western Hemisphere

Authored by Dr. Jose de Arimateia da Cruz.

Added September 29, 2014

Type: Article

Colloquium Brief: CBRNe: The Ongoing Challenge - Kingston Conference On International Security

Authored by Dr. Robert J. Bunker.

Added September 25, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: America's Strategic Debate - And Why It Matters To The Army

Authored by Dr. Steven Metz.

Added September 12, 2014

Type: Book

A History of the U.S. Army Officer Corps, 1900-1990

Authored by Dr. Arthur T. Coumbe.

View the Executive Summary

The Army's Office of Economic and Manpower Analysis published a series of monographs during 2009 and 2010 intended to provide a theoretical and conceptual framework for an Army Officer Corps Strategy. The present volume supplements that effort, providing an overview of some key developments and assumptions that have guided and shaped the officer corps and the way it has been managed over the last century.

Added September 11, 2014

Type: Monograph

After the Spring: Reforming Arab Armies

Authored by Dr. Florence Gaub.

View the Executive Summary

The Arab Spring has returned Arab military forces and their necessity for reform to the forefront. Outside actors, such as the United States, are now asked to rethink their security assistance in broader terms, shifting toward comprehensive security sector reform. As several countries are facing large-scale security implosion, terrorism, politicization of the military and protracted instability, the time for reform was never more imminent than now.

Added September 10, 2014

Type: Monograph

Turkey's New Regional Security Role: Implications for the United States

Authored by Dr. Richard Weitz.

View the Executive Summary

Why is a partnership between Turkey and the United States important? What must be done to create and keep a partnership that is advantageous to both countries?

Added September 09, 2014

Type: Article

Strategic Insights: The Ukraine Crises and the Emerging Sino-Russian Political Alliance

Authored by Bin Yu, Ph.D..

Added September 09, 2014

Type: Book

Political and Socio-Economic Change: Revolutions and Their Implications for the U.S. Military

Edited by Dr. John R. Deni.

View the Executive Summary

Managing change in the international security environment—whether revolutionary or evolutionary in nature—is never an uncomplicated task. The authors address the military implications of political and social change in the Middle East, North Africa, and Latin America.

Added September 05, 2014

Type: Book

The U.S.-India Relationship: Cross-Sector Collaboration To Promote Sustainable Development

Edited by Dr. Michael J. Fratanuono, Dr. David M. Sarcone, John D. Colwell, Jr.

View the Executive Summary

Within the context of the U.S.-India Strategic Relationship and in light of the vital national interests shared by both countries, what factors will contribute to the success of cross-sector collaborative initiatives intended to address challenges associated with sustainable development? What implications do those insights have for strategic leaders in different sectors?

Added September 03, 2014

Type: Monograph

A New Type of Great Power Relationship between the United States and China: The Military Dimension

Authored by Professor Geoffrey Till.

View the Executive Summary

President Xi Jinping's recent suggestion that a newly empowered China and the United States adopt a relationship that is new and different from previous relations between the great powers provides an ideal opportunity for the United States to consider its strategic options in the region.

Added August 27, 2014

Type: Article

Colloquium Brief: The Chinese People's Liberation Army in 2025

Authored by Mr. R. Lincoln Hines.

Added August 26, 2014

Type: Monograph

Russia and the Caspian Sea: Projecting Power or Competing for Influence?

Authored by Dr. Tracey German.

View the Executive Summary

A clear understanding of Russian strategic thinking and threat perception concerning the Caspian Sea is vital in order to facilitate effective U.S. policy in the wider Caucasus and Central Asian region.

Added August 20, 2014

Type: Article

Iran's Emergence as a Cyber Power

Authored by LTC Eric K. Shafa.

Added August 08, 2014

Type: Book

Strategic Retrenchment and Renewal in the American Experience

Edited by Dr. Peter Feaver.

View the Executive Summary

Amid fiscal austerity and international crisis, should the United States seek to renew its global leadership, or retrench its geopolitical commitments? This volume brings historical and theoretical insights to bear on that question through a series of essays that examine the current debate as well as past episodes in which American leaders were confronted with similar choices.

Added August 06, 2014

Type: Article

Military Power, The Core Tasks Of A Prudent Strategy, And The Army We Need

Authored by Brigadier General (Ret.) Huba Wass de Czege.

Added August 06, 2014

Type: Monograph

Strategic Implications of the Evolving Shanghai Cooperation Organization

Authored by Henry Plater-Zyberk, Dr. Andrew Monaghan.

View the Executive Summary

The Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) has the potential to obstruct U.S. policy aims in Central Asia, but also to facilitate them. However, both of these potentials are imperfectly understood. This monograph explains the SCO, and its real implications for U.S. policy toward both Central Asia and the SCO's dominant partners, Russia and China.

Added July 25, 2014

Type: Book

Visual Propaganda and Extremism in the Online Environment

Authored by Dr. Carol K. Winkler, Dr. Cori E. Dauber.

View the Executive Summary

Visual images have been a central component of propaganda for as long as propaganda has been produced. Terrorist groups, with very little initial investment, are making videos that are coming so close to the quality of BBC or CNN broadcasts that the difference is meaningless, and with access to the web, they have instantaneous access to a global audience.

Added July 21, 2014

Type: Monograph

Revival of Political Islam in the Aftermath of Arab Uprisings: Implications for the Region and Beyond

Authored by Dr. Mohammed El-Katiri.

View the Executive Summary

The rise to power of Islamist political parties in a number of North African states over the past 3 years has caused widespread concern over the future domestic and foreign policy directions of those states. This monograph explores political change in Egypt, Tunisia, and Morocco, and concludes that despite political crises in each country, worst case scenarios have not been borne out and there is hope for optimism.

Added July 17, 2014

Type: Monograph

European Missile Defense and Russia

Authored by Keir Giles, Dr. Andrew Monaghan.

View the Executive Summary

Strong Russian opposition to U.S. plans for ballistic missile defense (BMD) in Europe is likely to intensify further through 2015-16 as Phase III of the European Phased Adaptive Approach is implemented. This monograph examines a number of fundamental reasons—some valid, some spurious—why Russia is alarmed at U.S. BMD plans, and provides recommendations for managing the missile defense dialogue with Russia in the future in order to mitigate potentially damaging responses.

Added July 15, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Global Leadership — Learning From History

Authored by Professor John F. Troxell.

Added July 08, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Syria and the Great Middle Eastern War

Authored by Dr. Larry P. Goodson.

Added July 08, 2014

Type: Monograph

Russia's Contribution as a Partner in the War on Terrorism

Authored by Henry Plater-Zyberk.

View the Executive Summary

Russia and the United States have a common interest in fighting the threat of Islamist terrorism. In practice, however, efforts to achieve cooperation in this area have been hampered by differing concepts of terror and how to counter it, and institutional and procedural incompatibility between the two nations. This monograph explores counter-terrorism from a Russian viewpoint, in order to assess prospects for meaningful practical cooperation in this field with the United States.

Added June 26, 2014

Type: Monograph

Democratization and Instability in Ukraine, Georgia, and Belarus

Authored by Dr. Robert Nalbandov.

View the Executive Summary

Ukraine, Georgia, and Belarus have remarkable variance and incongruence between their levels of democratization, political stability, and economic development. This monograph by Dr. Robert Nalbandov explains the reasons for the different indicators in the three categories and explains the successes and failures of the democratization efforts in three post-Soviet countries.

Added June 24, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Paracel Islands and U.S. Interests and Approaches in the South China Sea

Authored by Lieutenant Colonel Clarence J. Bouchat (USAF, Ret.).

View the Executive Summary

Learn how the Paracel Islands disputes act as a primer about the South China Sea conflicts and U.S., Vietnamese, and Chinese relations in the region. This analysis may help the reader better understand these disputes, and how the United States may address them.

Added June 19, 2014

Type: Monograph

Operational Reservations: Considerations for a Total Army Force

Authored by COL John D. Ellis, COL (Ret.) Laura McKnight Mackenzie.

View the Executive Summary

Despite fighting shoulder-to-shoulder this past decade, the U.S. Army is comprised of essentially “three Armies”—the active component, the Army Reserve, and the National Guard. While an intriguing start to integrate the three components, the Army Total Force Policy is not a panacea for reform. Real and meaningful work still needs to be done to bring the three into effective alignment and in a way to foster cooperation and mutual respect.

Added June 18, 2014

Type: Article

Academic Engagement Notes: 2014 International Studies Association (ISA) Annual Convention

Authored by Dr. John R. Deni, Dr. Robert J. Bunker.

Added June 17, 2014

Type: Book

Moving Beyond Pretense: Nuclear Power and Nonproliferation

Edited by Mr. Henry D. Sokolski.

View the Executive Summary

The further proliferation and possible use of nuclear weapons are among the very greatest threats to U.S. and international security, yet most governments and industry officials downplay the risks of civilian nuclear technology and materials being diverted to make bombs. They use this optimistic assessment in formulating U.S. and international nuclear trade and nonproliferation policies. This volume taps the insights and analyses of 13 top nuclear and security experts to weigh the validity of their narrative. The result is a comprehensive counternarrative that recommends a significant tightening of current nonproliferation controls.

Added June 17, 2014

Type: Other

2014-15 Key Strategic Issues List

Edited by Professor John F. Troxell.

For several years, the Strategic Studies Institute (SSI) has annually published the Key Strategic Issues List (KSIL). The purpose of this document is to make students and other researchers aware of strategic topics that are of special interest to the U.S. Army. Part I of KSIL is entitled "Army Priorities for Strategic Analysis" (APSA) and is a list of high-priority topics organized to support the Army's five strategic objectives as identified in the "2014 Army Strategic Planning Guidance." Students and researchers are encouraged to get in touch with the topic sponsors listed in the document. Thorough research and solid arguments on these topics are extremely important to the Army in this period of transition and geopolitical uncertainty. On August 13, Part II entitled "Command Sponsored Research Topics" was released. Part II includes topics of critical importance to various joint commands, and major commands and other organizations within the Army. Make sure to bookmark this link to stay up to date on any changes as other parts and updates will be releasing soon.

Added June 13, 2014

Type: Letort Papers

Countering Radicalization and Recruitment to Al-Qaeda: Fighting the War of Deeds

Authored by Dr. Paul Kamolnick.

View the Executive Summary

Fighting the War of Deeds begins by taking deeds seriously—deadly serious—as action, policy, and communication. As communication, deeds furnish the U.S. Government a uniquely potent means for countering al-Qaeda's terrorist propaganda effectively, and also building longer-term alliances based on mutuality with the Arab and Muslim world.

Added June 13, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Growing Complexity of Sino-Indian Ties

Authored by Dr. Harsh V. Pant.

View the Executive Summary

This monograph examines the evolution on Sino-India ties over the last few decades and the constraints that continue to inhibit this relationship from achieving its full potential before delineating the implications of this for the United States and the wider international system.

Added June 13, 2014

Type: Other

Memorandum for the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff: Secure Balance and Flexibility In Future Joint Forces

Authored by Mr. Nathan P. Freier.

The 25th Annual U.S. Army War College Strategy Conference "Balancing the Joint Force to Meet Future Security Challenges" occurred against the backdrop of a complicated decision making environment. It sought establish a context for future military decision making based on two foundational questions: what are the most important military demands facing U.S./partner forces through the next decade and how should they think about confronting them? The author endeavors to describe the context that emerged here.

Added June 12, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Toward an Army Story: It's Not The "People" Part, It's the "Land" Part

Authored by Mr. Nathan P. Freier.

Added June 11, 2014

Type: Monograph

Cyberterrorism after STUXNET

Authored by Dr. Thomas M. Chen.

View the Executive Summary

This monograph examines the threat of cyberterrorism before and after STUXNET by addressing questions of motive, means, and opportunity. STUXNET has not changed the near-term likelihood of cyberterrorism, which remains low, but has implications for the cost-benefit weights of future attacks.

Added June 03, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Future of American Landpower: Does Forward Presence Still Matter? The Case of the Army in the Pacific

Authored by Dr. John R. Deni.

View the Executive Summary

The U.S. Army's forward presence in the Pacific theater is long overdue for reconsideration and reconceptualization. Without unduly harming America's commitment to deterrence on the Korean peninsula, the Army forward presence could be reshaped and reconfigured to enable the United States to more effectively and more efficiently achieve its objectives across the Indo-Asia-Pacific region.

Added May 23, 2014

Type: Monograph

Islamism and Security in Bosnia-Herzegovina

Authored by Leslie S. Lebl.

View the Executive Summary

Bosnia-Herzegovina, once thought to be on the way to joining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and the European Union (EU), is instead falling behind, mired in political bickering, economic stalemate and governmental dysfunction. In this difficult situation, Islamism poses a significant threat to Bosnia's fragile domestic stability.

Added May 16, 2014

Type: Monograph

From War to Deterrence? Israel-Hezbollah Conflict Since 2006

Authored by Dr. Jean-Loup Samaan.

View the Executive Summary

Over the last 7 years, the border between Israel and Lebanon has remained quiet. Against all odds, in a Middle East experiencing tremendous challenges, Israel and Hezbollah did not trigger a new conflict. Here is the paradox of stability between these two foes which is at the origin of this monograph.

Added May 13, 2014

Type: Monograph

Soldiers of Misfortune?

Authored by Dr. Thomas R. Mockaitis.

View the Executive Summary

What roles have security contractors played in missions in Iraq and Afghanistan?

Added May 12, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Changing the Army's Culture of Cultural Change

Authored by Dr. Leonard Wong.

Added May 06, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Resurgence of Al-Qaeda in Syria and Iraq

Authored by Dr. Azeem Ibrahim.

View the Executive Summary

The Syrian civil war has allowed al-Qaeda to recover from its setbacks up to 2010. Syria has also seen a civil war between two al-Qaeda inspired factions (Al Nusrah and the Iraq based Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant) and indicates there are limits to its ability to cooperate with other anti-Assad factions and gain popular appeal.

Added May 05, 2014

Type: Article

What Will Happen to Syria's Christians?

Authored by Dr. W. Andrew Terrill.

Added May 05, 2014

Type: Letort Papers

Russian Military Transformation - Goal In Sight?

Authored by Keir Giles, Dr. Andrew Monaghan.

View the Executive Summary

This Letort Paper assesses the range of options available to Russia for closing the capability gap with the United States and its allies, the authors review a flawed political perception of the key threats facing Russia and the challenges facing Russia's military transformation.

Added May 02, 2014

Type: Monograph

Russia After Putin

Authored by Dr. Richard J. Krickus.

View the Executive Summary

This monograph addresses the question: "What next after Putin?" The answer will have a profound impact on U.S.-Russian relations—in particular, the capacity to forge a security relationship. The campaign to eliminate Syria's chemical weapons indicates that a new "reset" is in the making.

Added April 30, 2014

Type: Monograph

A Soldier's Morality, Religion, and Our Professional Ethic: Does the Army's Culture Facilitate Integration, Character Development, and Trust in the Profession?

Authored by Dr. Don M. Snider, COL (USA Ret) Alexander P. Shine.

View the Executive Summary

Are the Stewards of the Army Profession developing a culture that fosters the necessary integration of Soldiers' personal moralities with the Profession's Ethic? The authors suggest that they are not.

Added April 25, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Evolution of Los Zetas in Mexico and Central America: Sadism as an Instrument of Cartel Warfare

Authored by Dr. George W. Grayson.

View the Executive Summary

Few cartel leaders acquire fame for culinary skills. However, Miguel Ángel "El 40" Treviño Morales, the sadistic erstwhile chief of Los Zetas, became skilled in preparing "el guiso" (the stew). His recipe is simple. After torturing a victim, even an infant, he plunged him into a 55-gallon pig cooker, doused him with gasoline, and set him on fire.

Added April 24, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: The POST "Post Cold War" Era in Europe

Authored by Dr. Jeffrey D. McCausland.

Added April 22, 2014

Type: Book

Assessing the People's Liberation Army in the Hu Jintao Era

Edited by Mr. Roy Kamphausen, Dr. David Lai, Mr. Travis Tanner.

View the Executive Summary

How has President Hu Jintao contributed to China's military modernization?

Added April 16, 2014

Type: Monograph

Augmenting Our Influence: Alliance Revitalization and Partner Development

Edited by Dr. John R. Deni.

View the Executive Summary

The role of allies and partners in the future of American Landpower is discussed.

Added March 31, 2014

Type: Monograph

Russia's Counterinsurgency in North Caucasus: Performance and Consequences

Authored by Dr. Ariel Cohen.

View the Executive Summary

Understanding the conflict in North Caucasus may be the key to understanding the future of the post-communist Russian state and its interaction with Islam, as well as regional mountainous insurgencies. The region's turbulent past and present make it a potential source of future waves of instability both within Russia and abroad—especially if the Kremlin and the Russian and local elites fail to deal with accumulating local economic, social, religious, and political pressures.

Added March 21, 2014

Type: Article

A Few Questions About China's Air Defense Identification Zone and Its Aftermath

Authored by Dr. David Lai.

Added March 19, 2014

Type: Monograph

Defense Planning for National Security: Navigation Aids for the Mystery Tour

Authored by Dr. Colin S. Gray.

View the Executive Summary

What do we believe we know about the future with sufficient reliability for it to serve as a basis for defense planning? Science and social science are both utterly disarmed by the complete absence of data about the future, from the future.

Added March 12, 2014

Type: Monograph

Turkey-Kurdish Regional Government Relations After the U.S. Withdrawal From Iraq: Putting the Kurds on the Map?

Authored by Bill Park.

View the Executive Summary

The withdrawal of U.S. combat forces from Iraq at the end of 2011 left behind a set of unresolved problems in the relationship between the Kurdistan Regional Government (KRG), and the Federal Government in Baghdad, compounded by Erbil's subsequent pursuit of an energy relationship with Turkey. This has deepened both Turkish-Iraqi and regional sectarian tensions and, along with developments in Syria, has raised the specter of wider Kurdish self-determination, a prospect that Washington has been slow to recognize.

Added March 11, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Balancing The Joint Force: Defense and Military Challenges Through 2020

Authored by Dr. John R. Deni.

Added March 11, 2014

Type: Letort Papers

Legality in Cyberspace: An Adversary View

Authored by Keir Giles, Dr. Andrew Monaghan.

View the Executive Summary

The United States and its allies are in general agreement on the legal status of conflict in cyberspace. But other key cyber actors have radically different ideas on key concepts of cyber warfare, including when a state of war exists. This paper explores the Russian approach to legal constraints governing actions in cyberspace, in order to assist in formulating an effective response to Russian cyber initiatives.

Added March 05, 2014

Type: Monograph

The Chinese People's Liberation Army and Information Warfare

Authored by Dr. Larry M. Wortzel.

View the Executive Summary

The Chinese government plans to establish a new air defense intercept zone which will include the Diaoyu or Senkaku Islands, sovereignty over which is disputed by Japan, China, and Taiwan. Due to complaints of cyber penetrations attributed to the Chinese People's Liberation Army, U.S. Departments of Justice, Homeland Security, and State are devising new means to protect intellectual property and secrets from the PLA's computer network operations.

Added February 20, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Not Your Grandfather's Insurgency — Criminal, Spiritual, and Plutocratic

Authored by Dr. Robert J. Bunker.

Added February 14, 2014

Type: Book

Senior Officer Talent Management: Fostering Institutional Adaptability

Authored by Lieutenant Colonel (Ret) Michael J. Colarusso, Lieutenant Colonel David S. Lyle.

View the Executive Summary

Former Secretary of Defense Robert Gates characterized the "greatest challenges facing the Army" as the "institutional and bureaucratic constipation" of its officer management systems. In this book, Mike Colarusso and Dave Lyle examine the Army's industrial-era personnel practices and prescribe a senior officer talent management approach that they believe is better suited to the demands of tomorrow.

Added January 17, 2014

Type: Article

Op-Ed: Between Conflicts: An Army Role That Sticks

Authored by Prof. William G. Braun, III.

Added January 08, 2014

Type: Other

New Realities: Energy Security in the 2010s and Implications for the U.S. Military - Executive Summaries

Edited by Dr. John R. Deni.

The rapidly changing global energy supply situation, coupled with a host of social, political, and economic challenges facing consumer states, has significant implications for the United States generally and for the U.S. military specifically. The U.S. Army War College gathered experts from the policymaking community, academia, think tanks, the private sector, and the military services at the Reserve Officers Association in Washington, DC on 19-20 November 2013 to address first the major 'new realities' both geographically and technologically and then the specific military implications. This compendium of executive summaries is based on the presentations delivered at that conference, which was funded through the generous support of the U.S. Army War College Foundation.

Jump to Top of Page

